

AMCHP'S PRACTICE CONTINUUM

-INNOVATION HUB-

CUTTING-EDGE

Addresses a need - Benefits MCH groups - Advances health equity - Involves collaborators and partners - Shows signs of success

EMERGING

Has strong logical/theoretical foundation - Has evaluation plan - Identifies & uses lessons learned for improvement

PROMISING

Considers biases - Conducts continuous quality improvement - Data shows beneficial outcomes - Identifies & assesses unintended results

BEST

Meaningfully engages collaborators and partners at all practice levels - Disseminated via articles, toolkits, reports, external evaluations, etc. - Replicated with similar positive results

Practices in the MCH Innovations Database are assessed along a Practice Continuum and receive a designation of Cutting-Edge, Emerging, Promising, or Best Practice depending on the level of evidence demonstrating a practice's impact, among other criteria.

