State spotlight: Preventing Adversity and Promoting Resilience

The DOH has a Centers for Disease Control and Prevention Essentials for Childhood grant that supports a collective impact approach to prevent child maltreatment and its consequences. MCH Block Grant funds support work related to community engagement and systems development in the state's Essentials for Childhood program. The office also participates in additional partnerships related to preventing ACEs, including Harvard Frontiers of Innovation (FOI), and state-level early learning, home visiting and behavioral health groups. Participation increases leaders' ability to work on toxic stress prevention and promoting healthy brain development.

Current Special Projects of Regional and National Significance (SPRANS)

Special Projects of Regional and National Significance (SPRANS) funding complements the formula funding each state receives and helps ensure the success of state Title V, Medicaid, and CHIP programs by driving innovation, responding to emerging and entrenched issues, and building capacity for integrated systems of care for women, children, and families.
