State spotlights: Perinatal Community Collaboratives

Kansas Perinatal Community Collaboratives (KPCC) assure comprehensive and coordinated perinatal supports through shared risks, resources, and rewards. Bringing prenatal education, clinical care, and wraparound services together, improvements in preterm delivery, low birth weight, and breastfeeding are evident. Outcomes for mothers and infants participating in a KPCC are improving when compared to state outcomes (KPCCs have a lower preterm birth rate than the state, 4.4% compared to 10.1%). The Kansas Title V Program remain committed to supporting expansion and sustainability of this model with local communities and networks of local health care and community service providers, as a consistent and proven delivery system for prenatal care education curriculum.

Current Special Projects of Regional and National Significance (SPRANS)

Special Projects of Regional and National Significance (SPRANS) funding complements the formula funding each state receives and helps ensure the success of state Title V, Medicaid, and CHIP programs by driving innovation, responding to emerging and entrenched issues, and building capacity for integrated systems of care for women, children, and families.
